

The People's Column

Judge Marcus A. Kavanaugh of the superior court of Chicago is responsible for this indictment:

"If one with premeditation commits a murder in the United States, and is careful, the chances are six to one he will never be arrested, 12 to one he will never be convicted and a hundred to one he will never die for his crime. If he is sentenced to prison for life and have no money or influential friends, he may actually die in prison. If he has money or influential friends there will occur no such necessity. The more money he has and the more influential his friends, the sooner he will be released. How is this condition of affairs possible? It exists, gentle reader, only because you don't care a continental damn whether it does or not."

Judge Kavanaugh does not blame the courts. He does not blame the prosecutors. He blames the people. He blames those who exercise the pardoning power. He blames what some critics call the maulin sentiment of the populace. A famous judge, called to his reward a few years ago, in a discussion of murder and the law in Texas, said:

"If a Mexican, friendly and ignorant, is accused of murder, he is found guilty by the jury. If a negro is indicted for the crime of murder, he is convicted in short order. Indeed, the Mexican, the negro and the white trash feel the leaden heel of the law. There is a reason for it. They cannot afford to employ able criminal lawyers."

ABOUT BRYAN

Harry S. Edge, Bryan's most youthful merchant prince, announces that he will stage a price reduction campaign at his dry goods store. He is conducting one of the biggest sales of the fall.

The army of actors in "Rose Marie" has registered at the Hotel Bryan. There are almost 70 persons in the company. This is Bryan's first musical comedy of the year, and it is said to be the equal of "Blossom Time."

When told that he was going to be written up in the column, "When I Was 21," Professor Madison Hall answered: "I am not 21 yet." "You are bound to be," we told Mr. Hall, "because you hold such a responsible position." He pleaded guilty.

The High School Review, which is even better than the first edition which was edited last month, is being distributed today. It is full of news and is liberally supported by local merchants.

The Dokeys, an organization of the Knights of Pythias Lodge, is going to give a dance Friday night at the K. P. Lodge for the benefit of the Bryan high school football team. The Aggie Serradores will jazz up the occasion. Proceeds are to go toward buying sweaters for the letter members of the football team.

"When I Was 21"

E. R. BRYANT

"When I was 21 I was hopping counters the same as I am now," stated E. R. Bryant, the affable manager of the J. C. Penney store in Bryan.

Mr. Bryant was working in the grocery department of a general merchandise store in Silver City, Iowa, his native birthplace. This was the first job he ever held, starting in at 16. His first duties were to deliver groceries after school in a horse-drawn buggy. He stayed on this job for seven years, when he answered the call to try to obtain an education.

When he was 23 he quit his job and went to Omaha, Nebraska, where he began studying at a business college. He finally had to leave school to answer the draft, being called on November 11, the day the Armistice was signed. Back in his home town he had to make a decision as to the future. Should he be a farmer or a merchant, that was the question.

He showed good judgment by not going to the farm. He signed up with J. C. Penney & Co. at Abilene, Texas, and made his home State and home town good-bye. He was ready to begin his career. At Abilene, which is one of the

Armstrong Speaks On "Tolerance" At Tuesday Night's Meeting of the Methodist Men's Brotherhood Club

"Tolerance" was the theme of an address delivered by Bob Armstrong at Tuesday night's meeting of the Methodist Men's Brotherhood. In his splendid speech he stated that the men of all of the churches should have a big get-together once a year to enjoy mutual fellowship. "One of the principal characteristics of the Christian religion is tolerance," he stated.

After telling several jokes that were well received and paying his respects to "Hip" Coulter and John Seely Caldwell, Mr. Armstrong gave a history of the founding of the Methodist Church. He said that John Wesley, the founder, lived in the time of Martin Luther, John Calvin, and King Henry VIII. Wesley attended Oxford University, and received one of the best educations possible in his day. The Methodist church movement was in progress while Wesley was a student, and it could make little headway against the Episcopal church. Although Wesley succeeded in planting the seed of the Methodist church that has grown to be the second largest Protestant church in America, he aroused the animosity of his own church through his preaching against slavery. He spent his declining years a virtual outcast.

Knox Furnishes Music. Sam Knox delighted the audience by his playing on the marimba. Each number was accorded prolonged applause. Both Mr. Knox and Mr. Armstrong are former students of C. M. Bethany, who was toastmaster of the evening. The program was in charge of Mr. Bethany, "Hip" Coulter and

Preachers Accused Of Being Lazy At Baptist Meeting

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 17.—Preachers in Texas are restless, either because of "down-right laziness" or because of poor salaries, speakers told the annual Baptist laymen's conference here yesterday.

Dr. J. J. Kellam, pastor of the Calvary church in San Antonio, told the assemblage that the unrest was due chiefly to the fact that many pastors are underpaid, but this attitude was attacked from the floor by the Rev. Leland Malone of Carthage.

"Preachers need to pay more attention to the Bible and less to the pay envelope," the Rev. Mr. Malone declared. He said that he was still old-fashioned enough to make his calls by horse and buggy, chiefly because that was the only way he could afford to make them, but he said that he was getting results.

"It's time for preachers to come down to earth and do a little real work," he continued. "The real cause of this unrest is downright laziness."

Representative Garner, of Tennessee, delivered an ultimatum of permanent tax reduction or nothing. In a statement Garner said the President's proposal would merely give back to corporations the taxes they have already collected from consumers.

Fifty-Seven Year Old Bale of Cotton Held As Heirloom

CHIPLEY, Ga., Nov. 17.—A bale of cotton almost 57 years old, is owned here by the heirs of Christopher Columbus Jones, who in September 1870 had the bale ginned and then held it year after year for the price he had resolved to get for it—22 1-2 cents per pound.

Planter Jones sold his other cotton but obdurately held to this bale on which he placed a price of $132.7 1-2 for its original 587 pounds. Eventually the "resolution bale" became a family pet, so to speak, and its sentimental value was such that in recent years when cotton soared to its 45c per pound peak, no offers were entertained. Ginned in the old fashioned way, the cotton remains in what is left of the original bagging and ties and its quality has not deteriorated. Experts have graded the line as "No. 2" and reported that the fibre pulls one and one-sixteenth inches.

The heirs have agreed that the bale never should be sold.

Prayer of Long Ago, "God Give Us Men," Is Answered At A. & M. College, Says Fort Worth Writer

By EVERETT ELY In North Fort Worth News

I have been to "Aggieland," the land of great promise and greater accomplishments. Mingled for two whole delightful days with the greatest body of young men I could ever hope to see. I have been to the land where that prayer uttered in the long ago of "God give us men," is being abundantly answered by the development of young manhood in all its golden glory.

On last Friday the writer joined the happy hosts of T. C. U. and journeyed to College Station; enjoyed the riotous revelry of those faithful to the Purple and White. Two very material facts impressed themselves indelibly upon my mind: First: The wonderful camaraderie of the faithful, loyal, hard-working, jovial Aggies, and, secondly: The splendid exhibition of "Aggie Spirit" in proving themselves to be sportsmen of the truest type. The whole Cadet Corps wanted their team to win, worked earnestly and industriously to that end, but when the final result was a tie, did they pout, snarl, throw insults at their opponents? No! They swarmed over the playing field as a unit, grasped the hands of their worthy opponents, flung them to their shoulders, and amidst plaudits, congratulations and cheers, carried the Purple and White warriors to the club house, and otherwise displayed themselves in a manner calculated to melt the heart of an iceberg. They proved themselves to be pure deersports of the old time Southern Gentleman type. Me for "Aggieland" and for all that she stands, for I have experienced her loyalty and honor—I have partaken of her wonderful hospitality, slept with her, joined her in "Mass" in the largest dining hall in the world; have witnessed the pleasures of the famous "prune race," listened to the mellow songs of the "Fish" and the wailing of the "Cat Fight." Again I say: Me for "Aggieland" against the whole wide world—against 'em all—except, of course, North Side High, which is always THE BEST.

Brazos Has Fine Specimens of Home Grown 'Mums'

The editor of the Eagle is indebted to the Bryan Nursery and Floral Company for some of the finest specimens of chrysanthemums as we have ever seen grown anywhere. They are the Turner variety, in white, yellow and lavender, with shaggy clusters of petals that measure more than eight inches in diameter. These chrysanthemums are home grown, not hot house, but out in the open on Brazos county soil and are tangible evidence of just what splendid varieties of flowers Bryan and Brazos county can produce when grown under the direction of an expert.

"It's better in Bryan" can be applied to flowers as well as many other things. These gorgeous blossoms are being sold for just half what they are for in the larger cities and can come within the reach of all.

Relation of Chambers of Commerce To Rotary Clubs Theme of Address By Mrs. Lee J. Rountree Wednesday

By C. L. BEASON

Glancing back over the brief existence of Bryan Rotary there stand out a few talks that have been constructive, instructive, and inspirational. Among these are recalled talks by Geo. W. Prosser, John W. Sparsen, Harry Rogers, Sid Hardin, and perhaps a few others of equal merit. Wednesday's program, in charge of C. L. Beason, set another highwater mark in the talk by Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, president of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce, and editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle, on the "Relation of the Chamber of Commerce to Service Clubs."

In introducing the speaker, Mr. Halsell stated that in certain sections of the country Chambers of Commerce had opposed Rotary and other service clubs on the theory that it was a duplication of effort, but upon becoming better acquainted with each other's mission the opposition had disappeared.

In a most pleasing address, Mrs. Rountree, whose greatest ambition in life seems to be to hold aloft the fallen torch of her late, honored husband, stated that she had long coveted the opportunity of expressing her appreciation of the splendid organization of the Bryan Rotary Club, and to pledge her individual support, as well as that of the Chamber of Commerce, of which she happened to be president, also their home town paper, the Eagle, in every undertaking which had for its purpose the upbuilding of Bryan and the betterment of Brazos country.

She stated that while the Rotary Club has among its objects the fostering of tolerance and fellowship in all business relations, the Chamber of Commerce is the parent organization which should be looked to for plans to be spread on the trestle board, peace and harmony, co-operation and good will characterizing our united efforts in the structure, whether it be city development, the building of highways or the improvement of agriculture.

"The value of service clubs," said Mrs. Rountree, "is not measured by members nor by the wealth of its members, but by the work of the individual. You may shrink duty, but you can not shift responsibility." She stated that the secret of the success of Rotary is found in its code of ethics, "Service Above Self" being enshrined as its motto.

Forget Differences. Mrs. Rountree closed her splendid talk with a plea that we utilize our opportunity to develop the resources of town and county, and that no differences nor jealousies—no click nor class be allowed to disrupt our plans, or mar the progress of our undertaking.

It was not a time when a "pitch hitter" was needed on the program, but if it had been, Hon. F. L. Henderson's patriotic words relative to the observance of Armistice Day would have served the purpose. He said we should give more attention to the matter of patriotism; that we can not live apart from the rest of the world; that upon our safety depends the peace of the world, and that our safety is jeopardized when peace is dethroned in any country. He declared that the worst thing that ever happened to this country was when the people turned their back on Woodrow Wilson, who died a martyr to the peace of the nations of the world.

Mr. Henderson declared that we should keep fresh in our minds the patriotic service of the soldier in the World War in defending the peace of the nations against militaryism.

If the object of the program leader is "putting it over," then C. L. Halsell is justifiable in violating President Gene Humbert's injunction that each Rotarian put on his own program.

Those present at the meeting were: Ike Ashburn, C. L. Beason, J. W. Black, Wilson Bradley, J. F. Casey, W. J. Coulter, W. F. Davis, R. M. Damsby, W. E. Farmer, E. J. Pernier, H. C. Fulgham, C. E. Griesser, Tyler Harrison, W. F. Hillier, E. P. Humbert, Kay Halsell, G. M. John, H. N. June, J. Horace Kraft, T. K. Lawrence, Dr. W. H. Lawrence, Oak McKenzie, W. J. McCulloch, David Reid, J. L. Reese, D. H. Reid, M. E. Wallace, D. L. Wilson, I. E. Warren, J. D. Wilson, Mrs. Roy Danforth. Visitors: Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, Bryan; Mrs. Kay Halsell, Bryan; Oscar S. Gray, Arlington; J. J. Taubenhaus, A. and M. College.

TELLS OF PROBLEMS AT WEDNESDAY'S MEETING OF P. T.

The West Side Parent-Teachers Association met on Wednesday afternoon at the school building. The meeting which regularly would have fallen on Thursday, was moved up one day to avoid the Armistice holiday, and the program for the day was of a patriotic nature in recognition of Armistice Day.

After a brief business session, Hon. W. S. Barron spoke appropriately upon the return of the date which brought our first assurance of peace following the World War; and reviewed the issues of importance during the intervening years.

After paying fitting tribute to America's part in the great war, Mr. Barron spoke of local and state problems concerning the maintenance of public schools; particularly of the matter of financing our school system. As local representative to the State Legislature, Mr. Barron came well informed, and brought assurance that the question of adequate support for the educational institutions of Texas is receiving the attention of the State's law making body; and he predicts an ultimate solution that will be satisfactory and that will eliminate the danger of another low appropriation.

The pictures for attendance were awarded to the 5th and 7th grades. All committees reported active and satisfactory work being done.

The next regular meeting will be held on December 9th, and the program will be on "Juvenile Protection." Public play grounds, Juvenile Courts, and reading and amusements for children will be discussed. All members of the Association as well as friends of the school are invited to attend.

Infant Baby of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Malazzo Buried

The three months old baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Malazzo of Burleson county, was buried in the Bryan Italian cemetery this morning at ten o'clock, with Danahy Furniture Co., funeral directors, in charge. The baby had been sick for some time, and died at the family home near Mumford, Burleson county, Nov. 14, 1926, at 6 a. m. Rev. Father Basil Bravi of the Italian Catholic church conducted the services at the church and at the grave.

CONROE LOSES TO BRYAN HIGH SCORE 20 TO 7

Displaying a remarkable offense and defense the Bryan high school team played one of its best games of the year to defeat Conroe high this morning, 20 to 7. Thus the proteges of Coach Clyde Braden finished the season in a maze of glory. Although the team failed to win the district championship, the players and coach deserve much praise for their plucky fight and excellent playing during the season.

Conroe was helpless before Bryan until the last two minutes of play when successive forward passes from midfield netted the visitors only score. On the other hand, the Bryan team hit the line, ran around ends, and forward passed with great success.

The entire Bryan line played exceptionally well. Trant, Curtis Cobb, Louis Beard, and Lawrence Griffin played especially well. Cummins, at left guard, towered above all by his magnificent defensive work.

Touchdowns were turned in by Mike Barron, playing his usual stellar game, and Curtis Cobb, who caught a pass over the goal line. Barron and Damsby kicked goals after touchdowns.

Rev. T. A. Searcy Will Preach Here On Tuesday Night

Rev. T. A. Searcy, President of the Teumseh College, Teumseh, Okla., is in the city visiting his brother, Dr. C. A. Searcy and family, also his sister, Mrs. Ben Powers.

He attended the Free Will Baptist conference in East Texas last week, and went from there to Houston to visit his daughter, Mrs. Devotie Donahoe before coming to Bryan.

Rev. Searcy has a number of friends in Bryan, having formerly been a resident of this city. Last year he conducted a revival at the Free Will church in this city and his eloquence and spirituality were the means of arousing much interest in the work of the Master and the building up of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Cook were in the city today from their home at Steep Hollow.

Mayor Haswell Reports Plans Are Complete for Entertainment of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce

Chairman Tyler Haswell of the entertainment committee of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce reported that plans for the entertainment of the board of directors of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce had been practically completed, according to the minutes of Tuesday's meeting. The directors from East Texas will hold their meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office starting at 8:30 Monday morning, November 22, and will adjourn at 11, when they will be met by Bryan citizens and taken for an automobile ride over the city. The delegation will arrive at College in time to see A. and M. cadets march to mess.

A. and M. to Entertain. The Chamber of Commerce will give a luncheon at Argyleland Inn at 1 o'clock and any member is invited to attend. The plates will cost $1 each, and can be procured from the secretary, Samuel E. Eberstadt. After the luncheon the guests will be entertained by President Walton and officials of the A. and M. College. They will be accorded a banquet in the mess hall Monday evening.

Letters were read from 13 directors of the East Texas organization. The entire board is expected to be here.

The secretary read a letter from Mrs. J. M. Conway expressing her appreciation for the $50 prize given by the Chamber of Commerce in the recent canning contest.

J. Bryan Miller addressed the meeting, asking the directors to assist in every way in keeping down fire hazards. He said that the city will make a complete inspection of light wires in residences and other places, and that they would be tested and suggestions made to the property owners without cost. The tax payer is not obligated in any way to adopt these suggestions as made.

Discuss Finance. The remainder of the hour was spent in discussing the question of raising more revenue for the Chamber of Commerce. Motion carried that the president appoint a special committee of three to give time and thought as to best methods of raising more funds.

Those present: George A. Adair, Colonel Ike Ashburn, Wilson Bradley, W. H. Cole, Eugene Edge, Judge H. O. Ferguson, W. F. Geller, Mayor Tyler Haswell, E. J. Jenkins, John H. Lawrence, T. K. Lawrence, J. D. Martin, J. Bryan Miller, M. L. Parker, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, M. F. Vitopil, A. M. Waldrop.

Johnny Bender And Coulter Smith Vie for Public Speaking Honors At Tuesday's Meeting of Lions

"Say it with flowers," which is used occasionally even by those who have kissed the Blarney stone, was discussed at Tuesday's meeting of the Bryan Lions' Club by J. Coulter Smith, local florist. Mr. Smith said that a florist had to be most versatile, his duties including those of a farmer, gardener, carpenter, and artist.

He declared that the only way to appreciate the magic effect of flowers was to open a beautiful bouquet of roses in a sick room and to see the animation on the face of the patient. He said that florists received more free publicity than any other business in the world, and that a rose or some flower are utilized on almost every road sign, whether the advertisement features cigarettes or soap. He said flowers were not only effective for the bed-ridden but also for those who are love sick.

American Lead. Most florists formerly were foreigners, but now Americans control the industry. He stated that flowers are sent by airplane and telegraph, and that styles change with every passing breeze. He told of the heavy corsages of the past, and the ankle corsages of the present. His speech was unusually interesting and held the closest attention of the Lions.

Bender Brings Cheer. Johnny Bender, who coached football teams from coast to coast, kept the crowd chuckling throughout his entertaining humor, which contained both clever humor and sound philosophy. He said that if Coulter Smith told the "ruth about flowers making everyone so happy, he is going to make his wife grow flowers when he gets "canned" as a coach. He declared that he was going to Fort Worth to attend a meeting tomorrow, and that he would proceed to practice his speech on the Lions. The jokes about the negro woman who thought there must be another corps in the house when her husband was so highly eulogized, and about the man who said that he liked squirrel whiskey to make hop but that he did not care for crow whiskey as he had no intentions of flying, were particularly good.

He told of the sympathetic attitude that father should be willing to show toward his son, and the value of a smile in terms of "verse. Spice and wit punctuated every sentence, and the Lions patted him with glee.

Sam Eberstadt received a big hand when he was called upon to make a brief talk near the end of the meeting. Mr. Eberstadt had been on the carpet for several meetings, but he emerged a hero today. During the singing the Lions voted to make Ty Cobb sing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," who responded with "You're Just a Nut," a parody on the famous song.

President F. D. Fuller presided over the meeting and Ripper Erskine introduced the speakers of the day. J. Bryan Miller, Jess Hensarling and Rip Erskine led the singing.

The following were present: J. Bryan Miller, R. M. Sherwood, E. Eberstadt, Bob Irvine, Harry E. Edge, J. Coulter Smith, E. E. Bryant, L. L. Stephens, J. E. Hensarling, Tom Suber, Henry Locke, Noah H. Damsby, Willard Chambers, W. E. Neely, R. V. Armstrong, Geo. W. Griner, Fred Hale, M. F. Vitopil, Thos. G. Watts, J. K. Bender, M. M. Erskine, F. D. Fuller, Ty Cobb.

Copies New Budget To Be Ready Dec. 1 Says Control Board

AUSTIN, Nov. 16.—R. B. Walthall, member of the Board of Control, announced Monday that copies of the budget would be ready in time to send to all those entitled to receive them by Dec. 1, as contemplated in the law creating the division of budgets and estimates of that board. Copies must go to members of the Legislature to the Governor, to the Governor-elect and to all County Judges. Formerly the law included copies to presidents of every bank in Texas, but the codifiers left that out.

The total of the budget will be nearly $38,500,000 the largest ever recommended by the board, but as Walthall explained, it maintains the usual margin over estimated income and therefore is not expected to deplete the State's revenues.

The printed volume is large, containing the figures for every item requested and recommended as well as the same data for the preceding four years so the Legislature can make comparisons.

In raising the total to $38,500,000, the board has ende

BOY'S AND GIRLS' CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Few Turkeys On Market.

Speaking of the turkey outlook, The Agricultural Situation, published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., says, "Storage holdings of turkeys are quite light compared to previous years." Peter Fox Sons Company, Chicago, adds, "Storage holdings are 3 million pounds below last November. Summing it all up, fewer turkeys than usual are fit for the Thanksgiving market. Prices, therefore, are bound to be high." Whatever the price, it should be commensurate with the cost of production, and the profits, if any, should be shared with the producer whose time, and patience, and care, and faith make the enterprise what it is today. That farm woman, who wades through the dew morning after morning looking after young turkeys, should be made to feel, when she sells you a fine Thanksgiving bird, that she is being compensated for her time and trouble, and that her enterprise should be encouraged.

High Finance.

Johnnie Atkins, club member of the Shirock club, earned five dollars last year as janitor for the school. Instead of "blowing" this money in, as so many boys are charged with doing these days, he purchased a pig brood sow—from which he has sold, up to November 12, $180 worth of hogs and pork products. Where did this money go? Drifted into the various local channels of trade, some went for shoes, some went for clothing, some for books, perhaps some for gasoline, and likely all went into local banks. What becomes of the hundreds of thousands of dollars sent to Kansas and Nebraska for pork and pork products? Yes, gone forever. And yet when a certain prominent business man recently proposed a plan by which more hogs might be kept on the farm, those who were asked to help in the enterprise, are reported to have laughed in the face of the promoter. "Take the witness."

To Sell Calves.

In order to encourage the dairy industry in Brazos county, Professor George P. Groat, dairy husbandman, A. and M. College, proposes to sell at nominal prices highly-bred bull calves to a few farmers interested.

James Good Report.

James Siger, of the Smetana club called on the County Agent Saturday seeking information about his final club report. James has made a good record this year as a club member and will, no doubt, be even more successful next year.

Club Stories Count.

Principal Rood of the Kuten school has set a fine example of co-operation in club activities by saying to the club members in his school that all club stories submitted to him will be graded as English exercises before being sent in with club records to the Extension Service. This plan will enable the teacher to become better acquainted with the activities of club members and at the same time help club members send in a story that is more readable. When it is remembered that club work seeks to relate the work of the school to the solution of the problems of the farm and home, there is every good reason for co-operation between teachers and county agents.

Soil Improvement.

The Fertilizer Review quotes G. I. Christie, director of the Indiana Agricultural Experiment Station, as saying, "The farmer who will make intelligent investments in improving his soil can make large profits, both on the time and energy he gives to planning and carrying out the details and on the money he spends for materials."

Has Much to Do.

There is a disposition on the part of some to criticize the County Agent who fails to render help at the minutes the call is made. But those taking this viewpoint should remember that there are some 3,000 farms in Brazos county and it would be a physical impossibility to reach all. If an engagement has been made with you and rain or some other thing prevents the filling of that appointment, then there might be some 30 or 40 engagements to fill before the County Agent could get back to the unfilled engagement. Think it over.

Has Fine Corn.

Ben Graham of the Harvey community says he has found some red cob, prolific corn, which produces well in Brazos county. At least he states that it has made fine this year, many stalks each yielding from two to five ears.

Has Big Field.

One farmer reports having made 5 loads of peanuts, vines and nuts, on one acre, and that he has already sold $40 worth of peanuts and expects to sell as much as $75 from this one acre, keeping the hay for his stock. And the ready market was found right here in his home town, Bryan. Some of us cotton farmers better check up on just how well our cotton crop pays us.

Get Ready for the Show.

Get those chickens ready for the big show, December 9-10-11. See that your poultry for exhibit is in proper shape. Clean the individuals up and get them used to being handled. In this way they will not try to jump through the coops every time the judge attempts to look them over, and will show to better advantage.

Watch Plant Lice.

Watch that patch of turnip greens for plant lice. The remedy is dusting with nicotine dust. Do it now.

Hens Earn $3 Each.

Miss Mary Locke, who has one of the four accredited farm demonstration flocks in Brazos county, reports that each hen has earned, above cost of feed, a little better than $3, and that the egg production for the entire flock averages nearly 150 eggs per hen. This is a fine record, and one that should serve to show just what can be done in the poultry business in Brazos county. All we need is co-operation in a systematic undertaking.

Mrs. Brock Speaker Dedication of New School Building

Mrs. J. L. Brock left today for Taft to attend the dedication ceremonies of the new administration building of the Pres.-Mex. School on Friday morning. This is a school for Mexican girls, where they are trained in industrial arts under Christian influence and was established in 1924 by the Southern Presbyterian Church. It will be of interest to know that the Texan women gave $25,000 to the establishment of this school, if it would be met dollar for dollar by the women of all the other states in the Southern Presbyterian Church. It more than went over the top and today the women of Texas and the other Southern States have the satisfaction of knowing that they have contributed more than $50,000 to the establishment of this school, which is doing much for the Mexican girls of Texas.

Mrs. Brock is a member of the Board of Directors of this school and was also a member of the committee that located the school and will be one of the principal speakers of the occasion, telling of the past accomplishments in its few years of existence. As president of the Synodical it was largely through the efforts and influence of Mrs. Brock that the Texas women rallied so loyally to the cause.

Boone Prairie

BOONE PRAIRIE, Nov. 17.—The rain that has been falling is damaging the remaining crops. Several farmers are through gathering their crops, but most of them are not.

The school is progressing nicely under the management of E. D. Cockrum as principal and Misses Ruby Lee Duncan and May V. McCormick and Mrs. Jewel Clay. The high school girls have taken up the study of domestic science under Mrs. Clay and the boys manual training under Mr. Cockrum.

Mrs. Rex Woodall of Luzon spent the past Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Ed Baker.

George B. Ingle of Reagan spent Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. Ed Baker, and was accompanied home by his cousin, Eunice Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. John Wood of Fairview spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Shipper spent Sunday at the home of Pete Merriam.

Solon and Louie Merryman left Saturday for a visit in Houston.

Mrs. Mable Griffen of Ennis is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dock Richardson.

Lois Baker visited Ollie Mae and Edna Bray.

Eunice Baker, who has been visiting in Reagan, returned to her home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown of Grant Prairie spent Sunday at the Charlie Bush home.

Miss Goldie Mae Dowdy spent the week-end with her cousins, Daisy, Bertha, and Estelle Miles.

On account of the rains there was no Sunday school Sunday. Rev. Rambo of Franklin preached at the Baptist Church on Saturday night.

Henry Ellison and Wylie Carter, Claude Dowdy and Ruby Lee Duncan motored to Franklin Friday night.

Miss Nellie Duncan, who is teaching at the Coal Branch School near Bald Prairie, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Duncan.

Lucille, the small child of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Connell, died Saturday afternoon at the home of its grandmother, Mrs. Paskey. She was about seven months old and was the only child in the family. She was buried in the West Boone cemetery at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Everyone extends great sympathy to the bereaved and loved ones.

COUNTY NURSING NOTES

By County Public Health Nurse Miss Ella Bandelin

Child Health Conference.

On Thursday afternoon, Nov. 18, a Child Health Conference will be held by the public health nurse at her office in the Court House. The hours will be 2 to 4 p. m. New infant scales have been purchased by the Public Health Committee. The following afternoon, Friday, at 3 p. m., a Mexican child health conference will be held at the office.

Hygiene Importance.

In the good old days it was necessary to provide Johnny with a clean shirt and trousers, and Mary with a clean dress and apron, see that hands and face were washed, and hair combed, and behold, they were ready for school. Neither parent, teacher nor anyone else thought that more might be done to put them in shape for the school progress. Within the past 15 years, however, educators have learned a great deal concerning the relation of the body and mind. Many children are comparatively dull, because the tools they work with, their eyes and ears, are imperfect. Others are physically handicapped in other ways. Many a child who must repeat his year's work in school does so because some remediable defect of eye, ear, nose, throat, teeth or other organ. If the child should need to repeat his grade on account of physical disability, it will cost some one from $50 to $100, besides the loss of time of teacher and pupil, and the vexation of the parent.

Child Must Be Nest.

The wise teacher of the present day is not oblivious to the need of cleanliness and neatness of the child, but she is much more interested as to whether the child is as free as possible from physical defects which may hamper his efforts. The school has taken up health work partly because it wishes to waste as little of public funds as possible in handling material which is unfit to be worked with, also because the health of the child is fundamental for his progress.

Extends Thanks.

The county nurse wishes to thank the people of Bryan and College Station for the many bundles and boxes of clothing received for distribution to needy children and babies.

years to fight their battles. They cannot take advantage of all the tricks which are employed by able criminal lawyers to delay the trial of the case. They cannot obtain the advantages of aid of those lawyers in conducting their trials, in making bills of exceptions, in taking advantage of the mistakes or errors of the trial judge, these bills to be used in the high courts of the commonwealth. They are friendless and poor and since the beginning of our civilization, indeed throughout all the ages, men accused of crime who are without money, without standing, without political or social influence, have had a rocky road to travel in the courts of civilized countries. This is true in Texas. It is true in every American state.

Judge Kavanaugh, in his article, makes this broad assertion: "Every right-minded person in this world hates the death penalty and would do away with it if he could." Perhaps this is one of the reasons why murderers escape the gallows or the electric chair. If there are 12 "right-minded" persons on the jury, all opposed to the infliction of capital punishment, it is easy to understand why they should sentence a convicted murderer to life imprisonment or a lesser term in the penitentiary. This is a funny old world, wherein men who violate the prohibition laws are given long terms in the penitentiary and men who slay with impunity are either given verdicts of not guilty, or sent to the penitentiary for a term of years. There is a divine command, "Thou shalt not kill." There is no divine command, "Thou shalt not drink alcoholic beverages."

If slayers of their kind were prosecuted, with the public sentiment behind the prosecutors of the red-handed, perhaps more murderers would die on the gallows or in the electric chair and in time life would be sacred in Texas and other American commonwealths. If men are powerful or influential, if they have the backing of a large bloc of people, money rolls in for the defense, extenuating circumstances are readily found

Secretary of Pecan Growers Visits In Bryan

Oscar Gray, secretary of the Texas Pecan Growers' Association, was in Bryan a few days last week, primarily to see that fine boy, but incidentally, to talk pecan propagation.

In company with County Agent C. L. Beason, D. L. Wilson, Willard Chambers and others he visited several proposed developments and pronounced the enterprises to have wonderful possibilities. Brazos county has more opportunities to the square inch than any other place in Texas, among these being the development of the pecan industry along Thompson Creek, in the Brazos Valley, on Cedar Creek, on the Navasot, and at other places.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our deepest gratitude to all the good friends in Bryan and Kuten who gave us their assistance and sympathy during the illness, death and burial of our beloved husband father and grandfather. We wish to extend special thanks to the Rev. J. J. Kasiskie for his services and the members of the Herman Sons' Lodge and all who sent flowers and rendered assistance generally. MRS. GUS STEVENER, MRS. JOHN BEARD, MRS. OTHO WILSON, A. H. STEVENER, ARNOLD STEVENER, HENRY STEVENER, Dallas; HERBERT STEVENER, La Mesa, N. M.; and GRANDCHILDREN.

L. J. Falgeau is spending the week with homefolks in Jeanerette, Louisiana.

uniformed cadets will match their voices and stunts with the large student body of the University. A. and M. College is famous the nation over for the wonderful rooting of its khaki-clad students. Both institutions are holding pep rallies in preparation for this game and each school will offer new stunts. A feature of the Longhorn rooting will be the "white section," composed of 1,500 University co-eds, under the direction of Miss Anna Hiss, director of physical education for women. The Orange Jackets, a super girls' pep squad, will be a center of attraction.

Bands to Be There.

Between halves the Longhorn and Aggie bands, each with more than 100 instruments, will vie with one another for musical supremacy. The bands will be followed with the "white section" and Orange Jackets, and then will come the student bodies of the two State schools. The A. and M. red and white handkerchief stunt is especially spectacular.

Honors for the best stunts usually have gone to A. and M., but this year a committee of leading students at the University has been appointed to arrange a series of new features. This year's stunts are certain to eclipse those of former years.

This game is regarded as homecoming by both institutions, and thousands of ex-students will renew acquaintanceships of former years. Many former students frequently travel half way across the continent to attend this game. Thanksgiving is the day of days for ex-students of A. and M. College and the University of Texas, and this year's game promises to be the most notable homecoming in history.
